Croydon, home to Europe's first Family Justice Centre, is to host a one-day event which will examine the Family Justice Centre model and frameworks for improving coordination of working relationships with agencies, community organisations and victims/survivors of domestic and family violence.

The event is for anyone involved with domestic and family violence including the police, local authorities, the Probation Service, community groups, health professionals, legal practitioners, housing providers, community safety teams and policy makers.

Speakers include:

- Casey Gwinn - San Diego
- Gael Strack - Director, San Diego Family Justice Centre
- Dr George McClane - Forensic Health Programme Director
- Commissioner Yolanda Jimenez - New York Mayor's Office
- Family Justice Centre Canada
- Andrew Morley - Chief Executive London Criminal Justice Board
- Commander Steve Allen - Metropolitan Police
- Mark Gore - Borough Commander, Croydon Police
- Mike Fisher - Leader Croydon Council
- District Judge Barry Cole - Croydon County Court
- Esther Brewster Thizy - Chief Executive Croydon Women's Aid
- Jill Maddison - Director Croydon Family Justice Centre

In its first year, Croydon's Family Justice Centre has assisted more than 3,000 families.

Space is limited for this event so please register early
